

Adam Ellison

A Church for Everyone - A Voice for All

I am standing for the General Synod because I believe in a Church of England that is open, inclusive, and confident in its calling to serve the people. I will bring a progressive and practical voice to Synod. A voice that listens to our churches and communities, keeping YOU at the heart of our decisions.

Faith In Action

I will champion practical service to our communities, ensuring that national ambitions and priorities are properly resourced, and allow our parishes to serve our communities.

A Church on the Side of People

I believe that poverty, inequality, and social exclusion should be central to our mission. The church should not just respond but challenge the injustices.

A Church That Listens

All should be given the opportunity to help shape and serve. Representation must mean being heard.

Support for our People

I will champion all who serve in our parishes. I will support reducing unnecessary bureaucracy and ensure those who sustain our churches are properly supported and valued.

An Inclusive Church

All are welcome! I will work for a collective church where nobody is made to feel second-class. I will support full inclusion throughout the Church of England.

Durham's Voice at Synod

I will bring the full voice of Durham Diocese to the national Church. I will represent YOU with energy, integrity, and determination to get things done!

“Over the last decade, I have acquired the skills and experience to represent people; making a difference in my local community and supporting the work of my church and parish. I am dedicated to the Church of England and believe it is a true source of good. My faith, my service to God, shapes who I am.

I am standing for Synod because I believe I can make a difference. I am here to serve, so support, and when needed to challenge.”

Adam Ellison for General Synod